Underwater Waterfall Tours

Underwater Waterfall

The Underwater Waterfall is an amazing visual illusion, which is triggered by a run off of salt and sand deposits in the sea. In fact, the illusion makes the sea look like an underwater waterfall.

A helicopter tour allows the passenger to catch on the optical illusion of this astounding and memorable impression, as well as on the Mauritius topography and contours en route to the destination.

An aerial photograph of a tropical island. The island features a long, curved white sandy beach on the left side, bordered by a dense line of palm trees. To the right of the beach is a green grassy area with a circular field. Further inland, there are several small buildings with thatched roofs. The island is surrounded by clear, turquoise water, and a small boat is visible in the lagoon. In the background, there is a larger body of water and a distant shoreline under a blue sky with scattered clouds.
